

Windows Enterprise Announcement

May 8, 2012 – LDAP/AD "Title" Attribute (and others) Have Changed

Changes to a few LDAP and AD attributes happened Tuesday, May 8, 2012. This date is one day earlier than the previously announced date of Wednesday, May 9, 2012. ITS apologizes for any inconvenience this may have caused.

The following Active Directory attributes changed:

- title (now holds the official university title or major)
- description (proper name now has the account-type appended)
- employeeType (newly mastered with the account-type)

The following master LDAP attributes (on directory.iastate.edu) changed:

- title (now holds the official university title or major)
- description (a new attribute with proper name appended with the account-type)

Complete details on the changes are available in this announcement:
